SONS OF ITALY DECISION OVERRULED

Justice Alan J. Diamond, of the Middlesex Superior Court, ruled on April 9th that the action of the Wilmington Board of Appeals, last summer, in granting a variance to the Wilmington lodge of the Sons of Italy to build a clubhouse on Salem Street, near the Tewksbury line, was invalid.

The Board of Appeals ruling had been contested by about 70 families who live near the twelve acre property, ever since the decision. The hearing was held on May 13, 1969, at which time the Sons of Italy disclosed plans for a club house in a Rural Zone, on the southerly side of Salem Street.

Under the temporary chairmanship of Gerard Delaney of 21 Salem Street, a committee was formed to contest the Board of Appeals ruling. Attorney Fred Corum of Salem Street was retained to take the case to the Lowell Superior Court.

Delaney and his friends held there would be hundreds of cars using Salem Street, if the clubhouse were built, with subsequent danger to the lives and property of abutting land owners.

While it was never announced, it was understood in some circles that the Sons of Italy had purchased the twelve acre lot of land because it backed up onto Marjorie Road, off Main Street. Marjorie Road was planned to be the principal access to the club house.

Justice Diamond, in his decision, held that the Wilmington Appeal Board had failed to comply with the General Laws, Chapter 40A, Section 13, in that it did not set forth clearly the reason or reasons for the decision, and that the decision did not contain sufficient findings of fact to show that the proposed use of the premises would be in harmony with the general purpose and intent of the Zoning By Law of Wilmington.

Free Camping for Boys

Wilmington is eligible to send three boys to the Conservation Camp in Spencer, Mass., for two weeks in July, with all expenses paid.

Run by the Commonwealth of Massachusetts through the Department of Natural Resources, the camp is designed for boys from the ages of 14 up to 18 years of age; boys learn to appreciate and enjoy natural resources.

Small boat safety, soil conservation, forestry practices, water management, archery, fishing, fly tying, riflery and gun safety are all taught at the camp. Tests and awards are given on skills gained by a boy; sports contests, at the end of the two week period, are also held.

Any boy interested in attending this camp should write a letter to Mr. David Townley, Conservation Commission, Town Hall, Wilmington before April 25, the deadline for all applications. Priority will be given to those without previous Conservation Camp experience.

For additional information call Mr. Townley after 6 pm at 658-2302.

NOTICE

Effective May 1, the Deadline for all advertising in the Town Crier for Thursday's paper will be Tuesday, 5 pm.

It is National Library Week

IT'S NATIONAL LIBRARY WEEK: And there is an exhibition in the Wilmington Public Library on the theme of Environment, organized by the Wilmington Conservation Commission, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Ursula Leahy.

A special anti-pollution project, by the youngsters of the Wildwood School, John Cristafolli, principal, takes up a good part of the display. Photographed is a part of the work done by the Wildwood youngsters.

4.65 Acres of Land

Does not belong to Town?

There is a wooded spot on Andover Street, just south of the home of Mr and Mrs Edward J. Curtis. On the town maps the area is marked 'Town of Wilmington - Water Department'.

The land has been on the Town Books since 1936, and was made a part of the watershed for the town's wellfield just after World War II.

Tuesday night a plan was presented to the Planning Board claiming that property in the name of a Mrs Donald Buckley, of San Clemente, California, and, surprising as it may seem to some, in this town where the tax lists are so carefully prepared, Mrs Buckley has a pretty good case.

Her attorney is Philip Buzzell of Salem Street, and the survey presented to the Planning Board was by David Varga of the office of K. J. Miller of West Street.

The story goes back to about 1925. Mrs Buckley, it turns out, is the daughter of the late 'Pop' Dietrich, a retired mining engineer, who made fiddles for a hobby. Pop, about 1925, lived with his son in law, Don Foster, who was the Superintendent of the Water Water Department, just started, and who lived in the 1776 House on Andover Street.

Pop lived in an upstairs bedroom. He would find a nice piece of wood, make a fiddle, and then go look for another piece of wood to make another fiddle.

Somehow, in those years, Pop acquired that 4.65 acres of land from the late Talbot Sidelink, who lived on Woburn Street, in the big house which now has the Woburn Street school beside it.

And, somehow, that piece of land was never located on the town maps. Pop paid the taxes, and his daughter after him, but no one connected the taxes with the land on Andover Street, and in 1936 the town took the property for non payment of taxes.

The Water Department property, it would seem, isn't.

The Planning Board didn't sign the plan, Tuesday night, but they probably will next Tuesday. They just want to check into some of the nearly incredible circumstances, first.

Other Business

The meeting date for the Citizens Planning Advisory Committee has been changed.

It was to have been on April 23rd. Now it will be on April 29th at 8 pm, in the Public Library.

The Planning Board held hearings Monday night on the recision of two housing development plans, and on the modification of the Barbo Plan, off Concord St. No decisions can be expected until next week.

One of the real estate development plans was for Section III of Alderwood Estates, in the area near West Street. It was taken over, Monday, by the Newton bank which had a mortgage on the land. The Planning Board is not going to make a decision pending advice from the Town Counsel.

The other real estate development plan was for land at the end of Suncrest Avenue, part of the former Squibb Development. The decision on this will also have to wait a week or so.

Attorney Joseph Courtney was at the Tuesday meeting to discuss proposals on the new Route 125 Industrial Park, which is to be an extension of the old Upton Court, to be called Upton Drive.

Courtney told the board, among other things, that the Water Commissioners are considering having a 16 inch water main installed in Upton Drive, as it leads up towards Ballardvale Street, in the area of the Charles River Breeding Laboratories, and as there is planned another road which will lead back to the old Daly farmhouse, on ANDOVER Street.

There are plans for larger water mains on both those streets. By installing a 16 inch main on Upton Court, instead of the proposed 10 inch main, Courtney said, the Water Commissioners will be able to accomplish their plans at less cost, eventually.

Democratic Town Committee Elects Delegates

Chairman Anna M Visconti of 28 Nassau Avenue called a meeting of the Democratic Town Committee on April 8, to elect the Delegates to the Democratic State Convention at the University of Mass in Amherst on June 12.

Delegates are Representative Fred F Cain of 19 Clark St; Mary L Cunningham of 7 Fairmeadow Road, and James L McLaughlin of 31 Hopkins St.

At the Convention, the delegates will approve a Party Platform and endorse for nomination candidates for offices to be filled to be voted at the ensuing state primary.

U.N. Trip for Seniors Extended

Following a lengthy executive session of the School Committee, on April 2, the committee met with Robert Cripps, faculty advisor for the Senior Class, and discussed the possibility of extending the projected trip to the United Nations for an additional day.

134 students are to leave on May 1st at 7 am, by bus. They are to return on May 3rd at 10 pm. The original day of departure has been set ahead 24 hours.

Cripps told the School Committee that an extensive tour of the New York Police Academy has been added to this year's agenda, and that the extra day was needed to cover this tour properly.

Tours of TV shows have also been added.

William Fay, School Committee, wanted to know how many chaperones would be on the trip. Cripps said he would like to have two members of the School Committee as chaperones. He was rather insistent.

His reasoning was that then the School Committee could become better acquainted with the tour, and the students.

Al Lanni asked Cripps about control of rowdiness.

Cripps said that graduation could be held back, and he had already told the students that they would get themselves into trouble, and the students understood.

The students had signed up for the tour, and each chaperone had been given a list of students.

Fay wanted to know the extra cost for an extra day. He was told by Cripps that the students had raised the money for the trip with a candy sale, which will help defray the cost, and the trip will cost each student approximately $25.37, not including meals.

The proposed trip was voted unanimously, by the School Committee, which appropriated some money to help defray bus costs and chaperones. No one on the committee volunteered to go as a chaperone, but the committee will probably discuss this later.

Letters

19 School St.
April 13, 1970

Dear Larz:

The Special Education Dept. sponsored a delightful program last Friday night at the Woburn Street School. It was very evident that much time, effort, and patience went into this program and the display of the things that the children have made.

The town is indeed fortunate to have such a dedicated group of teachers in this department.

Sincerely
Barbara Michaud

14 April 1970

Dear Captain Neilson,

Last week's Town Crier published a letter from the American Legion Post 136 stating that the League of Women Voters of Wilmington opposed the Town's appropriation for the Veteran's Organizations.

The League has not studied this subject and therefore as a group never had a position either for or against the veteran's articles. Individual League members are free to vote as they choose on any item, but their views are not necessarily the League's.

We realize that the Veteran's Organizations, like other service organizations in town, perform many worthwhile services, and we wish them well in their endeavors.

Very truly yours
Joan Bachman
(Mrs. Christian Bachman)
President, L.W.V.

L.W.V. Meeting on Schools

AT THE LWV MEETING: L to R, Kenneth Breen, president of the Wilmington Teachers Association, Mrs Patricia Gagnon, Family Living teacher, Walter Pierce, Supt. of Schools, and Jeremy Slinn, new Librarian of Wilmington.

A majority of those attending the League of Women Voters Meeting on Schools, on April 8th at the Methodist Church, turned out to be members of that organization. The meeting was open to the public - but not many of the public were interested.

Charlotte Stewart was the chair lady for the evening. She told those present that the League was preparing a booklet on the Schools which would be available to the public soon.

Speakers were Walter Pierce, Supt. of Schools; Mrs Patricia Gagnon, Director of Family Living and Sex Education; Jeremy Slinn, new Librarian of Wilmington, and Kenneth Breen, president of the Wilmington Teachers Association.

Messrs Slinn and Breen, being new to their positions, talked generally on their aims and programs for the coming year.

Mrs Gagnon told of the two programs now in process at the North and West Intermediate Schools. The 'Thrust of Family Living' program for the future will be in the area of adult education. She also said that a Curriculum Committee is being formed for the High School.

The programs, she said, have shown that the students are now more relaxed and comfortable, and that lines of communication have been opened, between students and parents.

Supt. of School Pierce spoke of the projections of the School Department.

In the future, he said, changes may well be seen in the school day. It is possible that the High School programs will be lengthened, and follow more closely that of a college schedule. This would enable students to take courses that now are not available

There is a possibility, he said, that a 13th and 14th year may be added to the High School Program. This would assist the student who has ability, to go ahead, when he needs more time to mature in the program. Also, it would assist the students who fail in college, in getting a chance to return to school, and then reapply for college.

Much emphasis has been put on the Varsity sports, in High School, Pierce said, but the intramural programs are weak. We owe these to the students, he said, particularly the girls.

An advisory council of 10 to 20 parents is to be formed in the fall, Pierce said, to meet with the administration monthly. The proposal is to rotate the membership, to give everyone who wishes an opportunity to be on the council.

Selectmen's Meeting

A gasoline license belonging to the Stevens Family Trust of Lexington, was revoked by the Board of Selectmen, Monday night only one.

Somehow the Board of Selectmen had understood that there were three gas licenses, and ten other licenses for inflammables, and had advertised to revoke them all. But there was only one.

Les Stevens of Lexington, representing the Stevens Family Trust, which owns considerable acreage in industrial property along Eames and Woburn Streets, represented his family. The discussion lasted forty minutes, and resulted in the revocation. A new license is to be issued, after proper advertising, etc.

Town Manager Sterling Morris said that the Building Inspector had pointed out that there were discrepancies in the street addresses of the old and new applications. Because quite a period of time had elapsed between the applications Morris requested a site plan.

Stevens told the Selectmen that he had only one permit for gasoline, one for fuel oil, and one for solvents. The Fire Chief had been down and inspected the site, and all tanks had been looted. He reported telling the TM that there had been an error in the advertisements, and that the license had been renewed, yearly.

Morris explained that for six months the Selectmen had been 'cleaning up' old licenses - and that those not being used were being revoked.

Selectman James Banda made it clear that the Board was not denying the right for gasoline storage to him and Selectman James Miceli said it would be safer for the Board, if they had a site plan and a correct advertisement.

'What would that be?' Town Manager Morris asked; he had ten licenses in one and three in the other hand.

Miceli asked Stevens if the licenses were still in his name Stevens said he was only the lessor, and that he owned the Webster name. The solvents were for the tenant.

Stevens introduced Charles Mann, the Vice President of the George Mann Company, of Stoneham as a representative of the new tenant. Mann stated that his company would like to add more permits to the existing. Banda said that since Stevens was the owner of the land that the gasoline license would have to be in his name since the tank was underground.

'Should any license be in the name of the owner of the land?' asked Mann.

'No,' replied Banda, 'Just a gasoline license. If you want a license for solvents, your company should file for an application for solvents or whatever.'

With a unanimous vote, the Board revoked the gasoline license Stevens had, and told him to present a site plan before further action would be taken on any of the other licenses.

The Chairman Bruce McDonald welcomed the Drug Committee appointed the week before by the Board and the TM requested a sum of $500 be set aside for education of police officers in the Town.

Over half a dozen people from Taplin Avenue and vicinity were down to complain about water conditions. Somehow they expected to have a direct talk with the Selectmen, but it was all cut and dried. Their complaint was noted and Selectman Miceli took charge for the board. He will report later, it would seem.

To those people, standing outside the Selectmen's door, peering in, it was unjust. They seem to have expected a discussion.

'If we don't get an answer this week, we'll go to the State next week' was one remark. Another was that it was time to get a new board of selectmen.

Miceli moved, on the advice of the Town Counsel, that the State Department of Natural Resources be notified of an apparent violation of the Hatch Act. The vote was unanimous, and Mr. Altman, Town Counsel, is to meet with the Department of Natural Resources.

The TM reported that three police officers were now in a school, studying the drug situation, a sergeant and two inspectors.

Joseph Beaton Jr., who is on the committee, asked the extent of the co-operation from the town. MacDonald said the committee had all they needed through the Chairman of the Board of Health, James Durkee, who is on the committee, and the board (selectmen) itself. The committee was told to make monthly reports.

The selectmen sold a lot of land to Mr. Langone, for $270, in Fairview Park. Mr. Langone wanted to recover survey expense, from the town, but the TM was firm in that Mr. Langone's would have to make it from him. Morris was adamant that it was not a responsibility of the town.

Hatch Act Hearing

The Jackson Brothers were granted permission to alter the course of a small stream, which goes under Middlesex Avenue at a point near the Combs Furniture store. The hearing took 15 minutes.

Conflicting opinions were offered by the Planning Board and the Conservation Commission.

The Planning Board did not approve, because they said there was too much water. The Conservation Commission approved because there was no water.

Pointedly omitted from the discussion was the Town Engineer, Arthur Harding, who was present to give his opinion, if asked.

Traffic Study

The Selectmen approved hiring a traffic engineer, to study traffic from the proposed 129 Bridge (near Rocco's) down Main Street and Lowell Street, to Route 93, including the proposed by-pass, and a new road from the Woburn Industrial area towards Lowell Street.

Hired was Stan Segal, a Traffic Engineer from the firm of

T.T. Wiley Co., of Boston, who was introduced by the TM.

Nichols Street

Town Manager Morris had a nice map of Nichols Street, appropriately colored, to show a proposed fifty foot layout for that street from the new bridge to the Tewksbury line.

He told the Selectmen that they must have a public hearing, to find out if the people there would want this, since the county was no refusing to do any more layouts under Chapter 91, for the town, without the people's agreement on the proposed land taking.

Selectman Banda demurred. He said that the people there would want to have answers at the hearing, - what was going to be taken, and how much it would cost, etc. The tm said that he could have the Town Engineer do this, but that it wouldn't necessarily agree with whatever proposals the County Engineers would make.

Banda insisted. The Engineer is to have a plan for next week.

Barbara White of Fairmeadow Road told the board that a neighbor had a fence going into her driveway, because when the Town had laid out the street they had changed the corner bound. Miceli advised her to go to the Legal Aid Society for assistance, since the town could do nothing about disagreements between private parties.

Louis Theriault of Nichols St told the Selectmen that the drains installed by the state for the new Nichols Street bridge consisted of storm drains, leading into an open trench, that led 'nowhere'. He considered it to be a hazard. The TM will arrange a meeting with Mr. Mistretta, State Engineer, and Mr. Theriault.

Other Business

Attorney Peoples of Stoneham, who has been having a considerable discussion with the selectmen concerning a Victualer's license for the new Jack in the Box drive-in lunch, on Main Street, was present to give the Selectmen a copy of the By Laws of the Town of Stoneham, as he had promised a week ago.

There was a bit of comedy routine about the cost of the Victualers license. Peoples offered the money, ($5) in cash. Whether or not it was accepted is a question. Dverone thought it a great joke, after all the troubles he has had in getting the license.

The Planning Board is to meet with the Selectmen on May 4. A notice was read of a Board of Appeals hearing for a Fish Fry Take Out restaurant, near the Woburn line, in a residential area. The board voted to write a letter of opposition, to the Board of Appeals.

A Common Victualer's license was granted to the variety store at the corner of Shawshen Ave. and Hopkins Street, subject to the usual restrictions of the Board of Health.

A Function Hall license was granted to the Casa DiFlor, off West Street, but four other license applications were refused, after a lot of discussion.

Anyway, Choag adds that there're so many guys camped out in the house, that they stumble over each other. No wonder he's homesick--just like being back at the Hut in

Dear Town Crier:

Just thought I would drop you a line to let you know where I am.

My name is Jim Gagnon and am in the Air Force working for the office of Special Investigation. It is real nice down here in D. C. Cherry blossom time is coming this weekend. Should be real pretty.

Just dropped a line to thank you for sending the Town Crier. It always lets me know what's happening in Wilmington.

Thanks Again,

The poem that was lost is found! Thanks, PC!

A TEEN MARINE

You see him all around town - in his car with his friends At the high school, the Plaza - he has you at wit's end Life is fun, so he lives it--girls are pretty, so he flirts No cares in the world--'cept 'Mom, where's new shirt'

Then comes the day his room is empty--for the first time neat

You sift through your memories --some sad and sweet.

This teenage boy--so carefree, so young

Has gone off to war--'Mom, it has to be done.'

Your happy young teenager has very quickly found

Nam is a far away country--with death all around

You wait--and send packages with love--and you pray,

He writes often--he's homesick --you know tho he doesn't say.

Then comes the call--'Mom, I'm in Frisco--I'll be home real soon'

And with tears in your eyes--you step softly into his room

He comes home a little shy--a little unsure of his ground

But it sure doesn't take long to know he's around.

You see him all around town--in his car with his friends

At the high school, at the Plaza --he has you at wit's end

Life is fun, so he lives it--girls are pretty, so he flirts

No cares in the world 'cept 'Mom, where's my new shirt?'

And thanks, again, PC. I really believe you...How true... Aren't those lads' rooms something else! Loved that poem! and on the corner Charlie Brown is commenting:

'I never worry about how I start the day....It's how it ends up that bothers Me!...and we think one is strictly relative to the other, Charlie Brown!

And Lucy says on the corner: 'People always expect more of you when you have naturally curly hair!' Thanks, Lucy, we won't need to worry then!

Doesn't Anybody want to go to Conservation Camp. In March we had a note that the Conservation would sponsor three boys between ages of 14 and 18 to two week's camping, all expenses paid, in Spencer during July. As yet, the Conservation Committee hasn't had an application AND they have to choose the boys before the 25th, so write them a letter c/o Town Hall, or give Dave Townley a ring after 6 pm at 658-2302. That's three boys from 14 to 18 years, and that's all the requirements seems like!

WELCOME home, Father Croke. One of our favorite people has returned to Wilmington after a long deserved rest and vacation in Florida, but we certainly have missed him and will be delighted to see him back in action!

Somebody lost a Drake College ring. Evidently Drake is in Fla and it has the initials JSL in it. It was found on Salem Street and Henry Porter is holding it for its owner in the Crier office at the North Wilmington RR Station. Come and get it there owner...A boy, large type!

Note the Highway Department Busy Busy? Digging ditches, sweeping streets, and shoveling gravel. Looks that Bob Palmer and the TM are going to be ahead on that Clean-Sweep Week coming up the first of May...Did you start yours yet? Take a lesson from the Boys! Touche there, Sterling.

Old Refrigerators and other Stuff

Old discarded refrigerators are a problem. No householder knows just what to do with them, other than to take off the doors, as required by law, so that little children can't indulge in games which become suicide.

One often sees discarded refrigerators by the roadside. The assumption is that, because it is in Wilmington, it came from a Wilmington home. The fact is, that it generally comes from some other community. Wilmington police have tracked down the trash left by roadsides in this town, on several occasions, and obtained conviction in Woburn Court. One surprisingly, was of a man who drove all the way from Nashua, New Hampshire.

Some public dumps don't allow such bulky things as refrigerators. Others have special charges. The Saugus Dump, for instance, which frequently is in the headlines of the Boston papers charges $6 each for refrigerators, furniture, bedsprings, and washing machines.

In the Wilmington Town Dump there is a special place for refrigerators. Householders can get rid of them, if they will be kind enough to dump them in the right place--not at the 'face', as one calls the place where most rubbish is deposited. There is perhaps a little salvageable metal but the operator doesn't make any real profit. He is willing to give them away to anyone who wants them for that purpose.

The main idea is to keep the Wilmington Dump clean. Clarence Spinazola, who owns the town dump, operates it under contract with the Wilmington Board of Health. He is paid $23,000 a year for his services a price that has not been increased for several years, in spite of rising costs.

Last year, the Board of Health took steps to insure the continuance of the Town Dump, by excluding all but normal household rubbish from their contract with Mr. Spinazola. He can and does charge Wilmington Industries for using the dump, but there is no charge to the householder.

The householder, however must pay attention to the rules. Some don't want to. They argue that they can dump their bed-springs anywhere, their refrigerators anywhere. Some become abusive. Some of them, with official connections, flash badges and tell Clarence that they will take him to court.

You might as well bark at the Moon. The Board of Health backs him up--it's the only way to not only keep costs down, but to maintain a clean dump.

And that Wilmington has--one of the cleanest in the state.

Festival of Choirs

It just couldn't have happened in Wilmington, fifty years ago.
A Baptist Minister, for instance, singing in a choir in a Catholic Church - the church organist playing that old Lutheran hymn
'A Mighty Fortress Is Our God' while the combined voices of the choirs of five churches were joined by the congregation.

It did happen, last Sunday, in St. Dorothy's Church.

Sponsored by the Wilmington
Council of Churches, the congregation was treated to a solid hour of church music, Catholic and Protestant.

A Catholic Priest, the Rev. Fr.
Joseph Leahy, gave the invocation, and a Methodist Minister, the Rev. Willis Miller, the Benediction.

To say that any one choir was better than the others is impossible, but the rendition of Panis
Angelicus, by the Men's Choir of St. Dorothy's Church, with William Noll as organist and James O'Keefe as soloist was one of the outstanding events of the day.

COMBINED CHOIRS, IN ST DOROTHY'S CHURCH, Sunday afternoon. Members of the Girls Choir of St Dorothy's Church may be seen in the foreground. Behind them are members of the three choirs of the Methodist Church, with the Chancel Choir members being distinguished by the white collars to their robes.

ST. DOROTHY'S MEN'S CHOIR: With William Noll at the Organ

THE FIRST BAPTIST CHOIR: The Pastor, the Rev. Robert Smith, may be distinguished in the back row.

THE ANGELUS CHOIR, of the Methodist Church.

THE SAINT THOMAS CHURCH SENIOR CHOIR: Presenting 'The Palms'.

THE CHILDREN'S CHOIR: Of St. Dorothy's.

THE CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH SENIOR CHOIR, with members of the Junior Choir in the foreground.

1000 Trash Bags to be Ready

The Wilmington Chamber of Commerce is providing an even 1000 trash bags, and over 500 of Wilmington's youngsters will be out on the morning of May 9th, picking up rubbish along the highways of the Town.

The Boy and Girl power was pledged, Monday night, in a meeting in the Public Library. Participating will be Campfire Girls, Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, members of the Rainbow Girls, and members of the Coffee House, from the Congregational Church, in addition to some other volunteers.

The Lowell Red Cross will provide two emergency vehicles, in case of accidents.

The Wilmington Police will be patrolling the streets, to prevent accidents to the youngsters from passing motorists.

Every street in town will be cleaned, by the roadside, and the trash bags will be left in designated places for the Town trucks to pick up. Bob Palmer, Superintendent of Highways, has promised 15 trucks, starting at 8 am. There will be radio contact with the trucks, and also with the Red Cross vehicles.

The only thing needed are some volunteer drivers, to transport the youngsters. There are approximately 30 on hand, but another thirty are needed.

Volunteers for this may call Frank Tuttle, at his home on Carson Avenue, or drop a note to the Town Crier.

Town Clean Up

The annual Town Clean Up, (as distinguished from the roadside cleanup) sponsored by the Town of Wilmington and the Wilmington Chamber of Commerce, will be during the week of May 4-May 8.

leaves, will be picked up by Town vehicles, if left by the roadside, and branches too, if tied in convenient bundles, not more than four feet long, so that one man may handle them.

Calls for pickup, during the Clean-Up Week, should be directed to the Town Garage, 658-4481, during this week only.

Board of Appeals Summoned

The members of the Wilmington Board of Appeals have been served summons, to appear in Middlesex Superior Court by Attorney Philip Buzzell, who represents the Jackson Brothers, prominent Wilmington builders.

Mr. Buzzell is contesting a ruling made several weeks ago, in which the Jackson Brothers were denied variances on two lots of land in the new Jackson Park, off Shawshen Avenue, and near the Shawshen River.

The new residential development, which has been approved by the Wilmington Planning Board, is in a Rural Zone, which means that every lot of land must be at least 60,000 square feet in size.

When the original plans were presented to the Planning Board, last winter, every lot was over 60,000 square feet in area, and some, abutting on the Shawshen River, were over 80,000 square feet.

In the subsequent discussions the Jackson Brothers agreed to donate over an acre of land to the Town of Wilmington, along the river. The land was to be donated for Conservation purposes. The result of the agreement cut two of the lots to about 45,000 square feet, and thus required a Board of Appeals hearing, for a variance.

The Appeal Board denied the variance. This means that the two lots of land cannot be used, under the present conditions.

The Planning Board, with good intentions, has been attempting to discuss the matter with the Board of Appeals, but has been too busy because of the annual Town Meeting. Meanwhile time was passing. An appeal from a Board of Appeals decision has to be made to the courts within twenty days, or it isn't valid.

One of the members of the firm told the Town Crier that the intention is not to cause trouble for the Board of Appeals, but rather to regain the use of the two lots of land, for building purposes. The firm, he said, will probably be forced into not giving the land to the town, and then presenting a new plan, with each of the two lots being over 80,000 square feet, as was originally proposed. Jackson Brothers, he said, cannot afford to hold the lots several years or so, while the case is being tried in the courts.

Vandalism Increasing

Vandals drained the gas from the tanks of eight school buses, sometime during the night of April 5th., and then put sand and sugar into the tanks. Ignition wires were pulled, and keys were broken in the locks. Windows were broken, too.

The buses were parked at the Wilmington Plaza parking lot, on Main Street.

Six other buses, which the drivers take home with them, were undamaged.

Frank Trombley Jr., one of the operators, discovered the vandalism, and worked all night to get the buses back into operating conditions. All buses were running next morning, but some of them ran late school-bus schedules.

No estimates have been made on the costs of the vandalism.

Vandals have easy access to School Buses. State law prohibits locks, for fear that a child may be accidentally locked in.

Interior damages, to the High School, and the West Intermediate School have been extensive. The damages include such things as pulling the public address speakers from the walls, tearing off fire extinguishers, and damaging electric light switches.

Damages to the interior walls in one of the toilets in the West School were such that two men took three days to repair them.

Fred Jaeschke, Supt. of Public Buildings, has said that the last winter was the worst, yet, for damages to buildings - and he is not looking forward to the summer time, when there are often protracted periods of vandalism in many of the schools.

The Wilmington police, too, have increasing tales of vandalism. It used to be that the big joke was to place broken bottles standing up behind the stores, in hopes of causing flat tires to the police cruisers, during inspection trips. Now the bottles are being placed out in the streets, to cause annoyance to the unwary motorist.

School Committee Discussion

As could be expected, the School Committee was unhappy over the vandalism to the buses. John Brooks, chairman, in the April 9th meeting, said that he wished that the members of the Student School Committee could be present for such a discussion as he would like to explore with them the problem. 'This is their school' he said.

Miss Imbimbo said that for every one student who did something like this, 50 to 100 were hurt.

Proposals by Walter Pierce, Supt. of Schools, for efforts to combat the growing vandalism included: 1. A co-ordinator for High School activities, 2. Part-time Assistant Principals for the Intermediate Schools, 3. A Librarian for the West School, and 4. Two Assistant Principals for the Woburn and Shawsheen Schools.

A co-ordinator for the High School activities would be valuable he said, in such activities as Proms, year book, and the co-ordination of various activities with their student advisors. It would free the administration for other work, especially during the school building process.

Assistant Principals are needed to deal basically with the problems of discipline, and also to assist the principals in all phases of the school, and to oversee the intra-mural and pupil activities.

There was an involved discussion on the possibility of an internship program, for assistant principals. The committee expressed fears that the better teachers would be attracted to the new jobs, and thus the schools would lose the value of their experience as teachers. Pierce told them the only way to avoid this was to pay them adequate salaries.

The committee approved of his proposals, and instructed him to work up some job descriptions and post the positions.

Mrs Merton Bennet of Grove Avenue called to tell us how thrilled she was to read about that fella, Charlie and his ribbon in the service. She wanted to know where we got the information on account of the Bennett's thought it would be immodest to call this Chick. Well it's like this, some of this stuff on the lads comes from the service public relations department and so we and the Bennets want to thank the Army for that release about Charlie. Congratulations again, Fella! And you folks there please do let us know when something happens to one of your boys overseas or in this country in the Service. That is how the lads keep track of each other and they are grateful for the info and even catch up to each other in Nam by reading the paper.... sometimes arranging a rendezvous for a few days.

Also heard that down on Grove Ave they had their own candidate for Selectmen at the election.... by the name of 'Harvey Keck'

At the Campfire Gal Drawing the Afghan winner was Penny Nicoll. Now we are glad that we drew Penny's name cause she is the youngest in a good sized family and we hear that they call her 'Six Cents' cause her given name is really Penny Nicoll!

You girls will want to send Nellie of the Afghan Project a note or a card, I know. Nellie's husband Walter passed away last Saturday in his sleep, and he did a lot of running for us with the yarn and afghans, and Nellie herself does so much for others, we want her to know how much we appreciate and love her, so do drop her a note, or drop in to say hello - Nellie Thompson at 16 Shawsheen Avenue, in Town. Thanks!

Barbie Welton tells me that that Emblem Club is holding a dinner dance for the annual scholarship fund on April 25 at 7:30 at the Elk's Hall. They will serve a homecooked Turkey Dinner. The club gives $100 to the Wilmington Senior and $100 to the Tewksbury Senior every year to help them out. You can call Judy Creamer at 658-9665 or Barbie Welton at 657-7095 for your reservation. It looks like good eats and good fun for a worthy cause, so give those gals a call. Anyway it's about time you took the Little Lady out for a time there, Joe!

On April 25 - that's your Saturday - the Junior MYF at the Methodist Church will be holding a Pancake Breakfast in the morning all morning. So, figure that in for that Saturday it promises to be a good Brunch for that shopping spree.

Did you know about the Rally for Americans with Bob Hope, Jim Nance, Joe Bellino and Al Capp as speakers, and with Fire works. It'll be held on April 26 at 2:30, with a Rally at 4 pm after a Parade with our own Crusaders and Swordsmen marching

This is a committee of the folk that are tired of Americans using violence as a means of political dissent. 'Let us, as a nation, find once again our ability to distinguish between protest and revolt; between dissent and chaos; between demonstration and destruction; between non-violence and violence. Let us cease to condemn those who disagree with us, but let us also be prompt and resolute in putting an end to violence in our land. The time for lip service is past. The time for action is NOW!

Got your Dancing Shoes ready? The Annual Mothers Club Dance for the Walker School will be at the K of C Hall on Main St in Tewksbury from 8 - 12 on May 15th. Everybody is invited. The tickets can be purchased at the door, or call Jan Danehy at 658-3715 or Chris Spozzoro at 658-2504, and let's live it up! These gals work hard and the proceeds of this will go as usual to the Library Fund at the Walker School. You ready? Let's go!

At the Hammond Castle in Gloucester, on April 18 at 8:30 our own Ken Wilson of North Wilmington will be giving a Salute to Spring on the great organ with 14000 pipes.

AND, in case you haven't taken the kids there yet, there are Sunday pm tours at 2, 3, and 4, and the coffee and gift shops are open at that time, or group tours may be arranged with the museum director, Mrs Karl Witham. This would be a great place for school or church kids, and they could see the Gloucester Fishing Wharves on the way.

John and Joanna Carr (John is that West Int. School Fellow) have finally accomplished the move to Wilmington. Hear that Joanna has been running a bug, and the babe is having a small amount of difficulty, and John's father has had a few heart problems. Cheer up, there folks...Spring is here and things will be looking better! Welcome to Wilmington. We're are going to love having you here and we know you'll like it...Meanwhile a friendly card to Joanna to let her know she's welcome and hope that she's better soon, so she can be out and around and meet all of you folks we have praised to the skies...That address is Mrs John Carr III, 29 Wilson Street, Wilmington..... Thanks a bunch. We knew you would!
